“... Welcome the stranger, serve the poor, free the oppressed, speak out for justice, and love one another.”

TWENTY-SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

August 31, 2014  31 de Agosto, 2014

IN TODAY'S GOSPEL: No wonder Peter rebukes Jesus! Jesus "began to show his disciples" what faithful discipleship demands: denying self, losing self, letting self die. Jesus teaches his disciples to let go of self so that a new self can be given. What we relinquish is ourselves as we are now; what we are given is a new self born from identifying completely with Jesus. It takes a lifetime of discipleship to turn from wanting to rebuke Jesus' way of living through the cross to embracing it. It takes a lifetime of discipleship to let Jesus transform our life into his Life.

“He turned and said to Peter, “Get behind me, Satan! You are an obstacle to me. You are thinking not as God does, but as human beings do.”

—Matthew 16:27

The Pastor's Corner

My dear Parishioners,

Every Labor Day, the American Catholic Bishops issue a statement on the importance of work. Each year, the statement addresses a specific aspect of work in this country. This year's Statement was written by the Archbishop of Miami, Thomas G. Wenski, who is also the Chair of the Bishops' Committee on Domestic Justice and Human Development. In it, he deals with the current pressing issue of the lack of work among young adults. Acknowledging that there is a work crisis in the United States, Archbishop Wenski points out that, while the poverty rate remains high, with 46 million Americans struggling to make ends meet, the brunt of the crisis is being borne by young people. "The unemployment rate for young adults," he says, "at over 13 percent, is more than double the national average (6.2 percent.)" He goes on to state that, of those young people who have jobs, many are paid poorly. The Archbishop warns of the dire consequences of this situation not only for young adults themselves but for our society as a whole.

I don't have to tell you how serious the situation is for our young people of color; statistics scream out numbers but it's the faces that haunt you. Archbishop Wenski calls for a national environment of inclusion and not exclusion, for solidarity and commitment to the common good.

I have found this whole statement provocative, giving all of us something not only to think about but, hopefully, to act on. That is why I have had it duplicated in both English and Spanish and inserted in today's Parish Bulletin. I encourage you to take time to read it, if not over the Labor Day Weekend, at least sometime during the coming week. The topic might even warrant some discussion within your family or together fellow parishioners. We so often allow ourselves to become immersed in our own interests that we lose sight of the bigger world around us, a world full of challenges and opportunities. As a parting shot, the Archbishop reminds us, "Our younger generations are counting on us to leave them a world better than the one we inherited."

Fr. Jerome, C.P.

CRS –EMERGENCY APPEAL FOR IRAQ

Next weekend there will be a second collection for Catholic Relief Services in response to the crisis in Iraq.

Iraqi bishops also issued a statement in July pleading for increased humanitarian assistance and protection of minorities. The lives of hundreds of thousands of Iraqi families are in peril and in need of meaningful interventions to prevent further catastrophe. Catholic Relief Services (CRS) is seeking support. Pope Francis launched an appeal for unity, calling for “security, peace and a future of reconciliation and justice, where all Iraqis, whatever their religion, could build their nation together, creating a model of coexistence.”

Monies collected throughout the Archdiocese will be forwarded to Catholic Relief Services. Please respond as generously as you are able next weekend.

Mis Hermanos, el pasaje del evangelio de hoy es la continuación de la narración del pasado domingo. En Cesárea de Filipo Pedro acaba de reconocer en Jesús al Mesías. Después de ser proclamado "dichoso" por haber recibido esta revelación de Dios, recibe la misión de ser la roca sobre la que Jesús edificara su Iglesia. Empezamos hoy, la segunda parte del evangelio según san Mateo, y se abre una perspectiva totalmente inesperada por parte de los discípulos y de los contemporáneos del Jesús.

A partir de este momento Jesús después de mandarles que "no dijese a nadie que Él era el Mesías", inicia su camino hacia Jerusalén acompañado de los discípulos. Allí se ha de cumplir el anuncio que Jesús les hará por tres veces, y que hoy escuchan por primera vez: "Que tenía que ser ejecutado y resucitar..." Casi toda la narración del evangelio de san Mateo ira dirigida, a partir de ahora, a sus discípulos, que irán recibiendo la enseñanza sobre el significado de la cruz. Esto no obstante en la voz del apóstol Pedro manifiestan su total incompreensión: "¡No lo permita Dios, Señor! Eso no puede pasarte." No será hasta después de la resurrección y habiendo recibido el Espíritu Santo, que los discípulos empezarán a captar todo lo que han recibido en el diario contacto y la convivencia con Jesús. En este sentido, esta incompreensión se prevé en la angustia que denota la confesión de Jeremías en la primera lectura, que es figura del mismo Jesús, cuando ha de decir al pueblo todo lo contrario de lo que quiere escuchar. En otras palabras mis Hermanos, sólo cuando vayamos comprendiendo el lenguaje de la Cruz iremos comprendiendo la Misión de Jesús y el sentido grande que tiene la Cruz como medio de salvación. Vale la pena recordar lo que decía nuestro padre san Pablo de la Cruz: "La Pasión de Cristo es un mar infinito de amor y de dolor." Sólo cuando comprendamos el alcance de estas palabras es cuando sentiremos el gozo de compartir la cruz con Cristo y veremos en ella el signo de la salvación. Aquí encontramos el camino de la santidad a la que todos estamos llamados.
